WO00000000[REDACTED]10 : Splunk Alert:
DMCA notification received

George Washington University has received a Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) alleged violation notification that was correlated to your GW NetID.

This message requires your response.

The George Washington University ("GW") abides by the federal Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) by responding to notices of alleged infringement that comply with the DMCA and other applicable laws ("DMCA notices"). GW prohibits users of GW computing systems and services from engaging in illegal or unauthorized downloading or distribution of copyrighted material, without the express permission from the copyright owner or without a valid license to us or download.

GW's Acceptable Use for Computing Systems and Services policy prohibits Authorized Users from using the university's computing systems and services to violate the intellectual property rights of a third party. Authorized Users (user or account holder) are defined as all faculty, staff, students, contractors, consultants, temporary workers, and guests, as well as those who represent themselves as being associated with the university and who make use of computing systems and services and/or have an assigned GW NetID. This message contains important details about the alleged violation and actions you need to take.

User Actions Following Receipt of GW DMCA Email Infringement notice. (must be completed in 10 business days):
